1 Introduction
1.1 - Introduction

This portfolio consists of several examples of my professional work and is presented with moving-picture examples on two DVD discs (discs 5 and 6); and within this document is also a list of my roles, credits and training undertaken, along with a selection of still images from the period of my PhD by Practice, 2010 to 2018.

The first example on disc 5 is the feature-documentary Last Shop Standing (Dir. P. Piper) which was sound designed, edited and mixed by me at The Audio Suite studios in 2012. The film received a maximum 5-star rating in Q magazine's October 2012 edition and had a theatrical release before being made available on DVD and download. It went on to be rated as one of Q magazine’s top 10 DVDs of the year in 2012, and continues to screen internationally in countries as diverse as Holland, Norway, Denmark and South Korea.

The second example on disc 5 is a TV highlights package of the 2014 Commonwealth Games Boxing tournament. I was engaged as the Outside Broadcast Sound Supervisor for the Men’s and Women’s Commonwealth Games Boxing at Glasgow in 2014; boxing being one of several sports I have covered for broadcasters such as Sky, BT, BBC as well as the Olympic Broadcasting Services and the Commonwealth Games during this research period. Other sports covered during this time include Internationals, Champions League, Premier League, Championship and EFL football; speedway; rugby union, rugby league; athletics; beach volleyball (and, if it might be considered a sport) the Sky World Poker Championship (twice). I was the Sound Supervisor for the ATP250 European Open Tennis Tournament in Antwerp in 2016 and I have also covered ‘A-League Soccer’ in Australia.

DVD disc 6 contains three projects: the first of which is an extended trailer for the feature film Scott & Sid (Dir. S. Elliott), which was recorded on location by me in the role of Production Mixer and Head of Department for Production Sound. This was shot in 2015 and had its theatrical premiere and release in Spring 2018.

The second project on disc 6 is the full length feature film Finding Fatimah (Dir O. Arshad), for which I was engaged as the Sound Designer and Supervising Sound Editor. I was also the Dialogue Editor. My long-term colleague Pip Norton and I undertook the final cinema mix in the Powell Theatre at Pinewood Studios and the film received a general cinema release in March 2017, distributed by Icon.

The final project on the disc, Trelleborg (Dir. D. Osborne), is an example of the kind of commercial animation projects I am engaged to sound design and mix. Version 1 shows the first outline animatic received from the agency (typically when sound design concepts are discussed and ideas exchanged); and Version 2 shows the final pictures, complete with the finished soundtrack signed-off by the agency and client.
