

Something from Nothing (2019)

James Surgenor

Ex nihilo. Out of nothing. For me, one instrument embodies this idea. The instrument that I have played for the majority of my life but that has been sitting in the corner of a room for far too long. From silence, through breath, to pitch - Something From Nothing explores the relationships between my experiences as an improviser and an electroacoustic composer.

Premiered at Sound Junction, Firth Hall (Sheffield), 26 April 2019.
